You get a hint from your best friend and are interested in the App cause you want to meet nice people who are on the same wavelength.

You search for the App and can´t find it cause it´s not available on the Appstore. So you google it and download it from an unsecure and suspicious Website.

You type in your name, age and choose your identity. You ask yourself why you don´t have to upload a picture of yourself but thats just how the App works.
Looks are not as important as the person itself.

Swipe through a limited number of songs and decide witch ones you like and which you don´t. right is a like, left is „not impressed".

Now you have the chance to interact with billions and millions of people who have the same taste of music.
